Newsletter/President's Report
Coolfont Mountainside Association October 21, 1978

In reviewing the past year's events the one which has affected us most deeply was the death in June of George Fiske. George was tireless in his efforts to make our Association--our little village, in his words--a viable one by giving it a workable set of by-laws and even more important, a tradition of reason, moderation and responsibility through his example as president. We of the Board are grateful to his wife, Betty, for continuing to carry out the responsibilities of treasurer made all the more burdensome through loss of his counsel and assistence, and to the Fiske family for their decision to further enhance the beauty of George's beloved mountainside. In his death they lost a most dear member of the family, the Association lost its mentor and I lost an esteemed personal friend. Requiescat in pace.

While last year was one of growth and controversy for Coolfont and the Association, this year has been mainly one of reconciliation and consolidation. Shortly after taking office the Board was faced with the problem and expense of the heaviest snowfall in memory. The normal methods were inadequate so heavier and costlier equipment had to be brought in. The result was that our snow-plowing bill went from $350 in 1977 to $2,300. We also faced the serious problem of water supply and quality. Our response was to institute regular monitoring and maintenance under contract with Coolfont Recreation and to enlarge our storage capacity by over 5,000 gallons. The problems we had during July and August were due to water line breaks rather than the burned-out pumps that afflicted us the previous summer. The cost of the monitoring and maintenance service has increased our water expense from $1,500 to $2,500. Despite these increases, by careful attention to expenses we have been able to add about $4,000 to our reserves. Because of this we have decided that our present assessments are adequate and so they will not be increased this year. The bills for FY 1979 will be in the mail shortly.

In April a representative of Exxon met with the Board to ask that we sign a gas and oil lease on the Mountainside property. (As you probably noticed on your deed, the mineral rights belong to the Association and not to individual lot owners.) Exxon wants to get leases on about 20,000 acres in our valley before they will decide whether or not to spend over one million dollars for an exploratory "wildcat" well. After extended discussion and consultation with persons knowledgeable on these matters, the Board decided to reject the offer because of the incompatibility of our interests (recreation in a natural environment) and those of Exxon (production of natural gas). Mr. Ashelman said the Development Company would not lease its lands but that the Ashelman family had not yet made a decision concerning their lands which are located north of the Mountainside property.

Another matter of serious import for the Association on which the Board has made a decision is the so-called factory option--whether to buy or not to buy the large building and seven acres north of the barn. The Board has agreed with Mr. Cathers, chairman of the Development and Architectural Control Committee, that the best interests of both the Association and the CDC would be served by our not exercising the option. Instead we will obtain a written commitment from the CDC to divide the seven acres into three lots of approximately one acre each (one of which would include the factory) and to convert the remaining four acres into common land--all to be added to the Association under the existing covenants and restrictions.

Another issue, equally important but much more controversial, has been the matter of conversion of the fourth new tennis court into a multi-purpose court, as proposed at the 1976 annual meeting when the Association approved the CDC plans. Thanks to the leadership of the Recreation and Facilities Chairman, Mr. Eddy, the matter is being properly placed in the broader context of the recreational needs of the whole membership as determined by the answers to the questionnaire included in this mailing. Please respond so that the new Board will have a firm foundation upon which to base its plans.

Also included in this mailing is the slate of candidates as proposed by Mr. Cathers as Chairman of the Nominating Committee. There are three positions to be filled and all the terms are for two years. Please complete a proxy ballot--also included--if you cannot attend the annual meeting.

As in previous years, we encourage those of you who wish to have "open house" after the meeting, especially those whose homes have been completed recently. There will be a sign-up sheet at the registration table.

In conclusion I would like to thank the Board members whose terms expire this year, Carol Green, Lincoln Cathers and Charles Eddy, for their hard work and faithful service--and especially for their patience with a president who has been able to devote only a fraction of the time he'd like to serving the interests of the Association.

Respectfully submitted,
