DECISIONS AND THEIR FUTURE IMPLICATIONS - Stanley Bigelow , CMA President

The 1982 Membership Meeting has come and gone. For those of you who were not able to be present, I will briefly outline the important decisions and the implications of those decisions for the future of CMA.

The three major decisions made by the Membership were:

1) The By-Law Amendment reducing the Board from 9 to 7 members was passed. CDC is no longer represented on the Board with votes. (There were only two members who voted against this motion and Sam himself stated he would prefer not to be on the Board.)

2) The four new Board members elected for the next two years are Elmer Broxson, Richard Lehman, Jim Lancaster and Charles Myers.

3) The "Lake Use" Motion was passed by a very close margin. CMA will not pay the $13,000 "Lake Use" Assessment for 1983 to CDC. Much of those funds will be directed toward meeting the non-budget expenses for our water system and roads.

Now, briefly, what are the implications of these motions?

Having an all-elected Board constituency will enable CMA to work more effectively, particularly in its negotiations with CDC regarding the issues still on the docket in which we have to reach some agreement.

With regard to the "Lake Use" Motion, it was obvious to the Board that even though there were only about 400 times CMA members used the Lake, the boats or beaches in 1982 (Cost to CMA about $30/use), there was a strong message from the membership to have some form of lake use for those who desire it. We intend to negotiate with CRI (Sam) some other means whereby those who wish to use the Lake, at no extra charge to them, may do so in 1983. For those who are not interested in using the Lake, the Board is continuing a feasibility study to provide and develop further our recreational area of barn, tennis courts and possible free-form stone swimming area.

Regarding future relations with CDC, the Board doesn't anticipate substantial problems. Sam is a businessman; he must operate to achieve his own business interests. In several years of dealing with him, we are convinced that he will respond to our negotiation once he perceives we, as members, are speaking with one voice about our needs.

Our greatest concern is with our own members. We welcome the "Jasper Group" to meet informally and share with us their concerns. Don't wait until next year's Membership Meeting to let us know what your thoughts are. Come to the Board Meetings, join a working committee and/or attend one of the "sharing groups" scheduled to meet in your area. We will note your ideas in these groups and bring them back to the Board for its information and action.

Six group meetings are now being considered for 1983:

Washington, DC - Home of Jim and Harriet Lancaster
Baltimore, MD - Home of Bill and Bernadine Arnold
Coolfont - Home of Bud and Ellen Petway
Coolfont - Home of Dick and A lice Minnamon

(Possibly two others in D.C. and Baltimore)

Hope to see you soon at one of the above meetings.

SNOW REMOVAL REMINDER !!!!!!!

Homeowners not covered by rental agreement with CRI who want their driveways plowed by CMA, please send a note to Dick Minnamon stating same. Approx. $10.00/plow.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS WE ARE NOT,

But we are a Community interested in helping each other.

As much as they hate to sever their ties to Coolfont, Nick and Anne Bedessem report that their "Log House" is on the market because of exploding college expenses and the possibility of the family relocating out of the area. If any of your friends are interested in

A year-round, 3 bedroom, 2 bath, cedarlog chalet with two large decks and a unique three level design, please ask them to call Nick and Anne at (301) 927-8798 or (202) 447-2996. They are asking $75,000 but will negotiate the price depending on the amount of financing they will be asked to provide.

Long time Coolfont owners, David and Nina Schwartz are relocating their home in the town of Berkeley Springs. Happily for us, they will be close enough to maintain ties of friendship. Their lovely mountain home has been placed on the market.

Large living room with fireplace - Cathedral ceiling - Large deck. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths (Master bedroom with bath, walkin closet, separate deck). Laundry room with washer-dryer. Kitchen appliances included. $78,000, You or any interested friends may call David or Nina at (301) 229-5539

A TRIBUTE TO ART LEECH

It is with sadness that we inform you of the death last week of Art Leech, a full-time resident and past CMA treasurer. Art and his wife, Dot, moved to Coolfont in 1972 when he retired from the IRS. He was the first treasurer of the Association and served in that office until 1976. The following year he chaired the Ad Hoc Water Committee in an effort to improve the water system and served in 1979 and 1980 as the chairman of the Site Maintenance Group which was responsible for the maintenance of our roads and lands until a site manager was hired. He also served the larger community of Morgan County by his assistance to the county Commission on Aging, to the American Legion and Kiwanis.

We extend to Dot our deepest sympathies and take this opportunity to say how grateful we are to her and Art for all they did together for our "little village." We will miss him: His warm jovial laugh, his helpful, caring spirit answering anyone who called, his eagerness to give other people pleasure through his musical talent. A professional saxaphone musician, Art played for the Country Inn in its early years, for Valley View Nursing Home, Community functions, and Coolfont parties! His music helped us sing and dance the night away!

DOCUMENTS - DUST COVERED, LOST OR READ AND APPLIED? (Elmer Broxson, CMA Secretary)

We, the Board, hope you will read and apply because no organization can exist to meet everyone's needs unless its purpose, and rules to proceed orderly towards that meaningfulness are followed. Fortunately, a few members attending our last Annual Membership Meeting were well versed in these documents that govern CMA. Without their presence, at least one item might have been passed by the membership that was in direct violation of our Covenants, thereby opening CMA to a potential lawsuit.

The Board considers the following documents as basic for an understanding of the nature, workings and history of the CMA. If you are missing any please fill out tne order form and indicate the ones you need. They are listed in order of importance. Please allow 6 to 8 weeks for delivery.

1. The Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions is the basic CMA document. It "runs with and binds" your lot and defines in general one's rights and obligations as a CMA member. The Covenants can be revised only once each decade. The next opportunity to do so will be in 1985.

2. The By-Laws establish the form and many of the functions of the CMA as an organization. They cannot contradict the Covenants. The Board has authorized a complete review of our By-laws by a professional parliamentarian and the CMA lawyer during the coming year. As a part of this review the Board invites members to make recommendations. All proposed changes must be approved at the annual meeting in 1983.

3. The Building Guidelines are drawn up by the Development and Architectural Control Committee and are based on the Covenants. Approval of one's building or remodeling plans depends on conformity with the Guidelines.

4. The SRRTA - Statement of Restrictions, Reservations, Taxes and Assessments -- is a disclosure statement required by Federal Law before any developer can sell lots in innerstate commerce. It tells the purchaser what he is getting for his money and is certified by the developer to be both accurate and complete. The SRRTA in effect at the time your lot was first sold by the CDC is the one you should have.

5. A Chronology and Narration of the Development of the CMA is a two-part document which details the circumstances of the founding and expansion of the Association.

6. The Paved Roadway Task Force Report was written by Board member and architect, Charles Barrett, to establish the CMA's own standards of road design and materials. These standards were used for the 1979 road repaving. Standards are also being developed for the gravel roads and the water system.

7. The Herbert Quick Biography is a magazine article about the founding of the Coolfont Estate at the turn of the century by the social and agrarian reformer and novelist, John Herbert Quick.

Another basic document, the CMA Membership List, usually distributed at the annual membership meeting, will be sent to you shortly. This year we are attaching a map of the Association showing all lots and the current owners of each.
