AROUND THE MOUNTAINSIDE

--About twenty CMA members dropped by the Greens (H-7) for the Valentine's weekend open house -- nice to see some newcomers.

--And, ten or so hardy souls helped save the Association some money over the April 15 weekend by braving the unseasonably nippy weather to prepare the tennis courts for final coating and to do some planting at the swimming pool. Thanks to Betty Szadokierski whose impromptu provision of coffee and cookies helped volunteers carry on through to the afternoon. NOTICE: The nets will be down until mid-May, when work will be finished.

--Coolfont Development Corp. will be planting 60 evergreen trees in the next 3 weeks as landscaping around four new houses just completed or nearing completion.

----For the first time in quite a while there have been some burglaries on the mountainside -- at three homes in the H and E sections. Local police were notified. The Board suggests that, when your house is unoccupied, you keep "attractive" items under lock and key, and close drapes where possible. In addition you might want to consider using an etching tool to mark items for easier identification in the event of theft.

The sale of lot G-5 by the Jeffrey Humans to Mr. & Mrs. Everett Malone of Vienna, VA seems to have slipped by us. A warm welcome to the Malones.

LOOKING AHEAD...

A reminder that the '88 Annual Meeting is set for September 10. On that same weekend there is an important benefit golf tournament at Cacapon (for the Diabetes Foundation) which annually draws heavily on Coolfont for accommodations. We would like to help Coolfont and the Diabetes Foundation by keeping as many rental homes available as possible. The Board will coordinate arrangements for those willing to "double up" over the weekend. More in a future newsletter. This could afford a nice opportunity for some socializing.

ARE YOU STACKING LAUNDRY ON THAT PING-PONG TABLE?

It would be nice to have a ping-pong table, card tables/folding chairs, badminton or similar sports equipment to keep in the barn for CMA members' use. Have you any such items that you would like to contribute? Call Charles Barrett, 301/779-3918.

UPDATE ON THE DISSIDENTS' APPEAL

The dissidents submitted their brief to the West Virginia Supreme Court on April 4th. CMA's answer is being prepared for submission within 30 days. A hearing date still has not been set at this writing.

The Castle in Berkeley Springs, listed in the National Register of Historic Homes, is on the market for $3 million, which includes the building with its two accessory apartments, all the antique furnishings and 3 and 3/4 acres of mountanous land with three secret tunnels. A half-size replica of Berkeley Castle in England, the castle was built in the late 1880's at an estimated cost of $100,000 (roughly equivalent to $10 million today) by 53-year-old / Kentucky / Colonel Samuel Suit to win the hand -- so the story goes -- of Rosa Pelham, the teen-aged daughter of an Alambama Congressman. They were married in 1883 and Suit died a year after the castle was completed in 1887. Colonel Suit was a self-made millionare who acquired massive landholdings in the Bladensburg and Forrestville areas (the town of Suitland is named for him), and who was a leader in the Prince Georges County Republican party serving as State Senator from 1873 to 1877. The sale is being handled by Kandy Lewis Town & Country Properties in McLean, Va.
