❖MOUNTAINSIDE❖

Volume 1 Issue 3 DECEMBER 1993

◆ SANTA ARRIVES EARLY

ARBITRATION STAYED - SETTLEMENT NEARS FUTURE IS KEY

Membership must vote on final agreement-

The CMA Board of Directors has voted to stay the arbitration with the Coolfont Development Corporation. The stay should allow enough time for the parties to convert agreed upon principles for a settlement to a definitive agreement. Three representatives from CMA were selected to negotiate with CDC; Arbitration Committee Chair Don Fox, Long Range Budget Planning Chair Herb Jasper, and President Arleigh Greenblat. All met with Sam and Martha Ashelman to craft a series of principles that could be used as a basis for a new working relationship between CDC and CMA. A new or substantially upgraded water and sewer system to meet future community needs was an objective for CMA while CDC sought cooperation in expanding the community through planned development. Under the agreement, CMA would receive a total of $224,000 paid in installments with funds used for system improvements. January 31st is the date set for reaching a final agreement.

Myra Birnkrant reports that the M Street Brass Quintet will perform on 12/30/93 at Coolfont Resort for the holiday concert.

◆ '94 LOOKS PROMISING

PLANNING PHASE CRITICAL TO PROGRESS

The leadership of the Coolfont Mountainside Association intends to use CMA's considerable human resources to craft a series of planning documents necessary to meet the challenges of the future. First and foremost is a construction program intended to begin in the spring of '94 that will bring about improvements in the infrastructure with special attention to the quality of the mountainside water and sewer systems. A pure and reliable water supply that has sufficient pressure has been the goal. Other planning issues involve community enlargement to create a financial base for CMA to adequately maintain all systems, including roads. Costs to repair roads has skyrocketed in recent years, challenging CMA officials intent on attaining a quality infrastructure to find necessary funds.

◆◆◆

◆ PLANNING - KEY TO SUCCESS

MEMBERSHIP MEETING REQUIRED FOR APPROVAL

Happy New Year to all our neighbors and a special CMA welcome to new homeowners Mr. & Ms. Marvin Steinberg!

Save Saturday April 9th, 1994. That is the date a membership meeting will be held to approve the terms and conditions for a new agreement between CDC and CMA. The meeting will be held at Coolfont Resort and will begin at 1:30 P.M. Since CMA would be taking in more common land (Salmon Tract) and allowing building lots to be developed in the Salmon Tract and section upper E, covenants require that two-thirds of the membership vote to approve the proposal. By the time of the meeting, tentative infrastructure construction budgets, community expansion plans, and initial reports from long range planners should be available. All of the aforementioned represents a turning point in the CDC-CMA working relationship. CDC will confer with CMA as expansion continues and as CMA forcefully exercises general management responsibility in the best interest of member consumers.

Reservoir cleaning and repair work is 50% completed. New completion date is Jan. 15th.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Sam Ashelman . . had a knee replacement operation which was brought on by an old football injury. " Knute " is doing well. No need to call, we've sent best wishes from all CMA members.

David Brenner . . has taken on responsibility for CMA's Development-Architectural Control Committee. This committee is one of the most challenging.

Maggie Dowling . . held an important meeting at Coolfont last week on long term goals for the association. In attendance, were, among others, Kitty Connor, David Brenner and Roland Szadokierski. David Silver has joined the Lawyer's Committee, John Dowling joined the DACC and Glen Bruels and Ann Schwartz will co-chair the Recreation Committee. Jim Bradfield will chair the Finance Committee. Myra Birnkrant is our CMA - Coolfont Foundation contact.

If you haven't done so, please pay your water bill. Thanks to everyone who paid on time.