New Board Elected, New Officers Chosen

The Coolfont Mountainside Association has begun its new year with the election of a new board and the subsequent election of new officers.

At the annual meeting at Coolfont on Saturday, September 3, Jackson Bain, Jonathan Ormes and Harold Radday were elected to replace outgoing members Harry Birnkrant, Glen Bruels, and Ed Neill.

Land Trade Defeated

Also at the annual meeting, the result of the membership vote on the land trade issue was announced. The issue failed to get a two-third majority vote, and the issue was defeated. The final tally was 44.5 votes and 78.5 votes for the land trade. 86 votes were needed for approval. The two half votes were the result of two owners of a property casting one vote split on both sides of the issue.

NEW OFFICERS

On September 16, in a brief organizational meeting of the new board members, Arleigh Greenblat was re-elected President, Tim Black was elected Vice President, Anne-Marie Doppman was re-elected Treasurer, and Jackson Bain was elected Secretary, all by unanimous votes of the Board.

The new board also agreed on the date and place for the first official Board meeting - now scheduled for Thursday, October 6 at 7:00 p.m. - at the home of Jonathan Ormes, 4701 Cedar Court, in Beltsville, MD. As always, interested CMA members are invited to attend.

New Agenda

The Board informally discussed its 1994-95 agenda at the executive session meeting, agreeing that the Association must quickly resolve the outstanding issues of the 1986 Agreement with the Coolfont Development Association, including the water and sewer upgrade issue.

The Board members also agreed to a greater effort to provide CMA members with quick, accurate information about their Association, including the delivery of ten CMA Mountainside newsletters per year.

Jackson Bain was named editor of the newsletter.

NEWSLETTERS: More Information & Ideas

The next newsletters will bring you more stories and features, such as:

✓ A Monthly Column from the President and, at times, Committee Chairs

✓ A CMA Social, Recreation, and Events Calendar

✓ Recommendations for local craftsmen and workmen (members opinions only - no advertisements!)

✓ Summarized minutes of Board meetings

✓ Updates and profiles about our members (your neighbors and you!)

The newsletters will also carry member reviews of area restaurants and attractions. We want your ideas for features!

If you have items for the next newsletter, scheduled for print on October 15, call or fax:
