CMA 25TH ANNIVERSARY WAS A BLAST!!!

A GREAT SUCCESS," was the comment from members attending the celebration of the 25th Anniversary of CMA held on Saturday, September 27, 1997.

The enthusiasm of the committee members was absolutely wonderful. Elmer Broxson presented much of the CMA history in an exhibit and then led a historical walking tour of the loop. Marie Barrett's invitations to the event and her ideas for decorating the barn were reminiscent of high school proms. Gerry Sophar was the perfect bartender, making sure everyone had what they wanted. The golf and the tennis tournaments were quite successful. Who would have thought that our own Joan Bradfield would turn out to be the murderer of the Mystery on the Menu entertainment?

NEIGHBOR TO NEIGHBOR

This is the fifth article in this series. It's time to learn more about Stephen Aug.

Harriet and I found Coolfont during the late spring of 1986. A travel agent had recommended it when I asked about a weekend getaway. We had an A-frame that weekend, and before we knew it, we were looking at property. We bought lot P-3 just a few weeks later and decided to have our own A-frame built. We decided to use retirement savings because I think we both knew there would be little likelihood of a long retirement for Harriet. Breast cancer that was diagnosed and treated three years earlier had returned.

We moved into our new home—which she named Cozy—in November 1986, just in time for Thanksgiving. On our first weekend there, our three children, all teenagers then, spent the day climbing the mountain.

Over the years I found Cozy to be a relaxing place to get away from the pressures of my job. I covered business and economic news for ABC news. For years that meant 10-12 hours a day, five or six days a week. A weekend at Coolfont without a telephone and without television was the right place to unwind from the pressure.

Our last weekend together at Cozy was just after the 1987 stock market crash. Before the crash, we had decided that we would spend one weekend in October together at Coolfont. Then the market crashed and I was on the air from early morning till late at night. It was one of the few times a business reporter was in such demand at ABC. Even 20/20 wanted me that Friday night, but I turned them down and Harriet and I went to Cozy. I'll always be glad we had that weekend. A month later, she could no longer walk. The following April she died.

Since then, I've remarried and retired. We've always had Cozy in the Coolfont rental program to keep it occupied when we weren't there. Most of the family use these days is by my children—now young adults.

Although my wife, Marjorie, and I still enjoy Cozy occasionally, how often does a retired person need a place to unwind from the pressure? After all, when you're retired, what are you unwinding from?

THANK YOU ALICE!!!!!

Who you gonna call when you have a problem at Coolfont....why it's got to be Alice Minnamon of course! How can we thank Alice for all the tireless hours that she put in over the last ten years as our Operations Manager? The phone calls that she got in the middle of the night alone would drive anyone crazy. Alice certainly deserves a big thank you from everyone in the association.

Now that Alice is no longer our Operations Manager who do you call for all those problems? JOHN HOBDAY!! John has agreed to take over and so far he is doing a great job. So, if you have any problems, please give John a call at: 304-258-8141 and he will take care of it. (see the next article).

WELCOME OUR NEW OPERATIONS MANAGER

CMA has had a new Operations Manager since October...John Hobday. John has been doing work for CMA for a number of years now. He has helped with the water upgrade, as well as finding and fixing leaks in the system, or in homeowners homes. He knows our water system like Gale Connor knows the mountainside roads!

John can be found working out on the mountainside most days. If you need to get in touch with him, his phone number is 304-258-8141

SNOW PLOWING

CMA is in the process of making arrangements with Donnie Stotler to do our snow plowing this winter. John Hobday will be in touch with Donnie to make the decision as to when to plow. HOMEOWNERS WHO PREVIOUSLY HAD ARRANGEMENTS WITH ALICE FOR DONNIE TO PLOW NEED TO MAKE THEM DIRECTLY THROUGH DONNIE

CMA TO GET NEW OFFICE!

The CMA Board of Directors, at the November board meeting, approved the construction of a CMA office. The office will be constructed inside the barn. We will finally have a place to hold all of our CMA records and it will provide a base of operations for our new CMA Operations Manager John Hobday.

The new office will measure 10 by 14 feet and will be heated and air conditioned. It will also have a telephone and answering machine. The board approved a construction cost of $2500 for the office. The construction should be starting shortly. All correspondence will continue to be sent to the PO Box 418, Berkeley Springs WV 25411.

SNOW TUBING COMING TO COOLFONT

That latest rage snow tubing is coming to the mountainside. Coolfont Re+Creation, Inc. is now investing over $500,000 in making snow, hills, equipment etc. for a tubing park in what used to be part of the campground.

Snow tubers will slide down nine lanes on specially constructed canvas covered inner tubes and will be pulled back up the hill by a tow lift. The park's runs will be 700' to 900' long with a nine story vertical drop. The charge for the snow tubing will be $15 per person for a three hour period. Coolfont is pushing hard to get the project completed by mid-December.

The addition of this snow tubing park will help turn Morgan County into a four-season destination. This will create more use of Coolfont's facilities, more demand for housing and will help to increase property values.

The Ashelmans hope you and your family will enjoy using the tubing park and are offering a $30 credit towards purchase of snow tubing tickets for use before Christmas day. The opening date of the park is dependent upon cold weather—think snow!

BOARD MEMBER'S CORNER

Let's take a closer look at Joan Bradfield

My late husband, Jim, and I first visited Coolfont during the week between Christmas and New Years in 1984. A group of friends had rented Shalom and invited us to join them. While we were only able to spend a day, we were hooked! Immediately after the first of the year we returned looking at homes for sale. We finally decided to buy a lot and build our own; or rather have North American Homes of Point of Rocks, Maryland build it for us. As is usual, it took longer than we had thought, mainly due to the weather—late 1985 Point of Rocks was flooded. Finally one cold and icy day in early 1986 the house was delivered. It was an interesting process to watch, however, when the second half of the house became wedged between two trees, it was time for me to return to Rockville and let Jim handle that! Fortunately, all went well. We named our house 3 Oak, which I shall explain at some other time.

We spent as much time as we could at Coolfont, watching all the seasons create different surroundings for our little house. We marveled at the wild life up close and personal.

Jim's untimely death has left a great void in my life, but somehow when I am at Coolfont, which he loved so much, surrounded by our loving and caring friends, it helps immensely. My thanks to you all.

When not at 3 Oak, I can be found working at one or the other of my two careers, or traveling—I've become an Elderhostel junkie. I am a food consultant working with, among other clients, the National Turkey Foundation, for whom I develop and test recipes. Those who attended the 25th Anniversary celebration had the opportunity to see another side of me. My acting career also gives me the chance to work in movies and TV shows that are filmed in the Washington, Baltimore, Richmond area. In November I was in Richmond filming an outdoor scene for a Hallmark Hall of Fame TV movie "The Love Letter."

I am enjoying my board experience thus far. I so hope the sense of community that has developed will continue and I will work towards that. I urge those of you who do not attend the meetings regularly to do so. Come meet your CMA neighbors..we're a great bunch of people!

Special thanks also to committee members Janice Dring, Alice Bigelow and Betty Szadokierski, as well as Lee Weinberger, Sourmi Broxson and Rosemary Bigelow. A special thanks to Sam Ashelman for inviting us to breakfast at Treetop on Sunday where we learned about the newest attraction coming...snowtubing.

Stan Bigelow lead us on a nostalgic journey from the beginning of CMA to the present with much story telling and fond memories from the members.

A good time was had by all. We met new neighbors, made new friends and got reacquainted with old friends. Everyone seemed to agree on one thing...let's do this more often. We don't need to wait another 25 years!

how my house got its name

"On Eagles Wings"

Bob & Sally Dowling

In the fall of 1985 Bob and I spent a weekend in the Manor House at Coolfont in order to shop for a lot on which to build. We looked at several lots on Saturday and decided to "sleep on it" before making a decision. Sunday morning at breakfast we shared our dreams of the previous night. I had dreamt of how the house would look on the inside; Bob had dreamt of how it would look on the outside. As we spoke, we realized both the inside and outside were compatible.

Where should we put such a house? There was only one very high lot we had seen on the side of the mountain. There it would fit beautifully. Our choice was made.

Our dream house is shaped like an eagle with two wings and a center room of glass from which to see the mountain ridges on all sides. The name "On Eagles Wings" was given in my dream, as it was to be a soft, secure resting place. This idea came from the fact that parent eagles fly beneath their eaglets when they are learning to fly, so if they make a mistake and fall, they are caught on the soft firm wings of the adults. Eagles are a God symbol because God also catches us and forgives us when we fall.

The first gift we received in our new home was from my sister, Anne Lawler, who wrote in calligraphy and framed a verse from the song "On Eagles Wings" by Michael Joncas. The concepts in the song originate from Psalm 91. It says:

"I will raise you on on eagles wings,
Bear you on the breath of dawn.
Make you to shine like the sun
And hold you in the palm of My hand."

We hope that our family and guests will discover that they can count on landing there and finding a resting place both soft and secure. Our welcome mat has been out since our house was built in 1989.

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN BERKELEY SPRINGS

For goodies for your holiday table or to fill a gift basket, try these local establishments:

PJScrumptious makes wonderful fresh baked breads, cakes and buns. They are in the parking lot behind One Valley Bank on Saturdays (weather permitting) from 10 AM to 1 PM. You can call 304-947-7796 in Great Cacapon to place an order.

Wrenwood, located on Pious Ridge Road has an herbal oriented gift shop filled with jams, jellies, dried flower and books and special order baked goods. They hold Open Houses each weekend beginning Thanksgiving and continuing through the holidays. Hours are 10-5, 258-3071. Try their great aromatherapy drops.

won't you please help

Berkeley Springs is going to be the new home to a refugee family from Bosnia. Several of the churches in the area are sponsoring the family's move from Bosnia to Berkeley Springs.

The anticipated date of arrival for the family is going to be some time in January. They will be moving into a house in Berkeley Springs that is being spruced up by nineteen volunteers. They have been painting, taking up carpeting and making it a welcome home to this family.

The committee is not sure which of two families will be coming. They do know that there will be children as well as a mother and father. The family will be needing everything from furniture to pots and pans and certainly clothing. If you would like to help, please give Kitty Connor a call and she will tell you what is needed.

A CLOSER LOOK AT A NEW-COMER

Let's take a look at one of our newer members on the mountainside.
by Harald & Joanne Herp

While strolling through the foothills of West Virginia one summer weekend, my family and I found our dreamland. And, it has come complete with nice neighbors, a fine view, and many more wonderful things we have yet to experience.

Even though we have only purchased the land, I-3, the name has already been picked out, Fernfall, and I look forward to spending the winter browsing through catalogs, as I plan to introduce to the property heritage ferns that go back to Jefferson and Washington's days. Don't worry, the deer won't want to eat these.....I hope!

After meeting with a lot of fine folks at the 25th CMA anniversary and seeing their interest in alternatives, I was especially pleased. I am a certified herbalist and plan to continue my educating the public bout the proper usage of herbs and will still be able to see clients in my home/office setting. The plans for our log cabin will include a large wrap around enclosed porch....half of which will be my office.

I have one of the finest husbands in the whole world and he looks forward to being at Coolfont. After his retirement comes through he will join me as a Homeopathic Advocate. This will allow us quality time with each other and our clients.

Our year will be divided between Coolfont and Germany; most likely winters in WV and summers in Germany. What more could a person expect from life?

We have two children; a daughter Ryan, age 13, and a grown son named Shane. By the time we finish building the house, Ryan will have decided which continent she would like to live on. Either one will be fine with us.

So, as we look forward to a new stage of our lives to begin, we anticipate visits with our new friends we have made and we both share in the excitement of knowing all the other new friends to come!

A CLOSER LOOK AT AN "OLD-TIMER"

Now, here's another look at members who have been here a while.
by Marie Barrett

My first visit to Coolfont was in 1974, on the day that President Nixon resigned. My husband, Charles, and I came at the request of our friends Nick and Anne Bedessem, who had bought lot M-2 and wanted Charles' help in laying out their house location. Over the course of a few visits, staying at Mountainside homes and Coolfont cabins and A-frames, we decided we too wanted a home in the mountains. With our two children and the Bedessems' four, we appreciated the inexpensive fish fry and spaghetti dinners offered by Treetop on the weekends. There was much for a young family to enjoy: nature walks and star gazing with Al Capen, hootenannies and square dances in the barn, horse rides, and hikes up the mountain trails.

On one occasion, while the other adults were busy painting and fixing up the Bedessems' new Log House, I took the six children up the old blue trail and along the jeep trail to Prospect Rock on the top of Cacapon Mountain. While we were there a group of people on horseback came by and were taken aback at the sight of children picnicking on Kool Aid and cookies. I'm afraid we might have ruined their feeling of being far from civilization after an hour's horseback ride!

We picked our lot, K-4, because we liked the triangle of common land in front of us. Charles, an architect, designed the house, his hardest design he said, since he was his own client and could not spend more than the client allotted! Our two sons input led to the loft at the highest level of the house and secret storage areas built into their bunk beds. The house was built by Carson Johnson and completed in 1979. Carson said he liked the house except there were too many stairs. We were thirty-something and didn't understand what he meant—then. We also had two golden retrievers at the time, thus a dog kennel was part of the complex. My sister Jane won our house-naming contest with the felicitous pun "Aloft".

Life has changed, as it always does. Charles died in 1991, and my sons are grown and have moved from the area. For a while, my house was not much used. However, I'm back and have rediscovered Coolfont and the wonderful people I've met there over the years, as well as some lovely new neighbors!
