Message from the President by Jason Geno

I am thrilled to be your new President and look forward to another productive year on the board.

As President, I plan to focus my attention this year on the following initiatives: First, to determine and initiate a marketing program for CMA. This may mean developing events that help bring current, and possible new, community members together.. Second, recreation is a critical component of our sustainability at CMA. I have focused attention to this on the recreation committee for 3 years. I plan to work with our Board to improve our tennis and overall recreation courts. Third, I want to continue to strengthen our long term investments in our water system to ensure we can provide reliable service to our members.

New President, Jason Geno

Although these are focus points for me, there are many other tasks as Board members we will continue to aggressively pursue in 2014.

I look forward to partnering with each of you to make Coolfont a vibrant community for many years to come.

Finally the winter has ended and we all look forward to another productive year on the Board and the mountainside.

Jason and his wife Sharon are the parents of 2 beautiful daughters, Olivia and Elise.

Farewell Message from our Past President by Arnold Weinberg

As I think about the six years I was a CMA Board member I realized that we as a group accomplished some major projects on the mountainside and a lot of little ones. The CMA Security was started, street signs were installed, homeowners were given house numbers that correspond with Morgan County "911" addresses, the water infrastructure that recorded the majority of leaks was replaced, all water meters were or will be replaced, alarm systems that alert CMA of low water levels in our reservoirs were installed, the pools were refurbished and all drains were upgraded to meet safety standards, and an on-site Site Manager was hired.

It is always a little sad when "old timers" leave, but their houses are being bought by young families who are discovering the joys of being a part of Coolfont. These new homeowners have been and will continue to be visited by the newly established "Coolfont Welcome Wagon".

Annual Meeting and Dinner by Lois Copeland

Burned by past frigid weather conditions, our annual meeting was held at the Ice House October 26.

New Board members are Liz Dane, Richard Kaufman, Greg Kendall and Andy Zuckerman. We thank Cathy Levey, Arnold Weinberg and Ron Wohl for their years of service on the Board.

The CMA annual budget was approved, as was the Water and Sewer budget.

Freeman Company has approached CMA with an offer to sell CMA the parcel of land that parallels Salmon Way. The board will research the offer and discuss their findings with the CMA community.

Richard Kaufman was honored by John Anderson and M. Roger Ozburn of the West Virginia Forestry Division for his Firewise work on the mountainside.

New directories were handed out to members.

Drinks and munchies were provided by Hallie Kerr and we thank Anne Beckley for use of the Ice House.

Richard Kaufman receiving his Firewise award from Forester John Anderson.

Our annual dinner was held at Park and Dine in Hancock. No one left the dinner hungry. A delicious dinner, including appetizers and dessert was enjoyed by CMA members and their families.

Thank you to Bob and Jean Cohen for planning this fun evening.

CMA Resident, Pat Waters Dies by Lois Copeland

Pat Waters, long time CMA resident died February 8 at a hospice in Towson, Md. She was 89. Her husband, John, died in 2008. Pat loved the opera, was an avid gardener, and bridge player.

Pat and her husband, John, built their house in the early 90's and named it "Folly" They built a second home here for the same reason most of us did; for the peace, and quiet and serenity found on the mountainside.

Pat always had a jigsaw puzzle going on the table for all to help in putting it together. Always an avid gardener, she and John built a small greenhouse in the lower level for their plants.

The Waters' spent many New Years' up on the mountainside and helped host New Years Eve celebrations. Pat played their baby grand piano at those parties for all to enjoy. She also played when the Christmas Carolers arrived. Pat was a striking presence on the mountainside.

When people reflect on past presidents, they usually are remembered as the president who put in an additional reservoir, or buit the pool, tennis courts, pool house and playground, or rewrote the bylaws and all other projects on the mountainside. How about Arnold? Oh, he was the president when assessments were raised $175.

Thank you for allowing me to serve these past six years.

Thank you Arnie for your 6 years of service to CMA!

Welcome New Neighbors by Marlene Weinberg

CMA is delighted to welcome its newest neighbors who have settled on homes since the last newsletter was distributed.

As of October 2013, Brian Cyr and Lila Shapiro-Cyr are the new owners of D-2, located at 31 Bluebird Lane, previously owned by Stephen and Beatrice Szadokierski. Two sons, Noah, age 9 and Owen, age 6, round out the Cyr family along with yellow and black rescued labs named Reggie and Jessie. Brian and Lila's primary residence is in Baltimore where they are both transactional lawyers.

The Cyrs love to spend time outdoors—hiking, biking and playing with their dogs when the family is at Coolfont. The boys play all kinds of sports and the entire family are avid Baltimore sports fans, enjoying the Ravens and the Orioles.

Welcome!

Lila was attracted to Coolfont after staying at the Geno house for a girlfriends' weekend. She fell in love with Coolfont and Berkeley Springs and she and Brian particularly love "the peacefulness and the ability to enjoy the outdoors to its fullest." They have renamed their house Conjunction Junction (from Schoolhouse Rock) and plan to use their house for getaway weekends and for longer summer vacations.

November 2013 brought us Bill and Jennifer Hughes, who settled on R-10, at 574 Bobcat Drive, previously owned by Stephen and Jeanette Dubrow. The Hughes family includes two college-aged children, Benjamin and Rebecca, along with a 13 year-old Cockapoo, Annie. Jennifer and Bill's primary residence is in Bethesda. Jennifer is the Director of Montgomery County's Office of Management and Budget. Bill works for the Retail Industry Leaders' Association.

Jennifer has a strong interest in photography and Bill is embarking upon a new hobby with a recently acquired telescope. Bill would welcome input from any Coolfont telescope enthusiasts.

Jennifer first became familiar with Coolfont years ago when she came to D.C. as a Presidential Management Intern and attended conferences here.

Meet Your Board—Liz Dane by Liz Dane

I am delighted to be a part of the 2014-2015 board at CMA. My good friend, Lesley Frowick and myself bought our house five years ago and have enjoyed being part of this great community. We take a great deal of pride in our home and work to maintain it.

When I am not attending to our home at CMA, I work for Visit St. Petersburg/Clearwater, the Convention and Visitors Bureau for Pinellas County, Florida.

My goals for my involvement on the board of CMA will be updating our website with more information. Our website is a great tool for communication for those with the community and those interested in learning about our community. In addition to the website, I plan on getting more members who are on Facebook to "like" our Facebook page so that we can increase member participation through this avenue.

We are fortunate to have a wonderful webmaster working with us on our website. We are also looking for those who would like to assist in enhancing the site with more information. Please call me at (301)509-5209. I look forward to hearing from you.

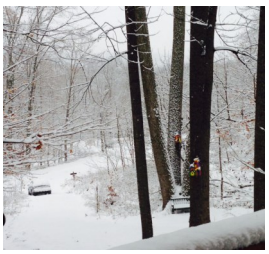

Liz Dane, our new Board member and secretary.

From the Site Manager by Craig Deane

This winter was a real challenge on the mountainside. We had massive amounts of snow, ice and cold. Shane Cheatham did a great job on the roads, at all hours. John Hobday responded to all of the frozen water lines. Both worked very hard in extremely bad weather conditions.

As spring approaches, I am working with Gateway to plant five new red buds on Mountainside Road. Also, I am repainting the pool bathrooms for the summer season. I was notified by the postmaster that our mailboxes were filled and I have the approval of the Board to buy and install additional boxes. Next will be the spring clean-uo of the landscaping around the pool area.

Just like everyone else I am looking forward to better weather.

Thank you Shane, John and Craig!

Out and About in Berkeley Springs by Lois Copeland

The Ice House—Home of the Morgan Arts Council—Saturday the Ice House hosts "Uniquely West Virginia Wine and Food Festival. The gallery features varied media by over 20 local artists.

Star Theatre—this weekend Liam Neeson stars in "Non Stop". Their popcorn is always a treat.

The New Earth Granary recently opened in Berkeley Springs on N. Mercer St. Offers yoga classes, music classes and live music on Saturday evenings.

Museum of the Berkeley Springs—Saturday and Sunday 11 am to 4 pm.

Nature Niche—everything for your outdoor friends. Also a good place to pick up information on outdoor activates.

For outdoor activities see our trails on the mountainside and visit Cacapon State Park.

You're hungry after sightseeing and hiking, visit our local eateries. Try Earth Dog for great barbeque, delicious sandwiches and wonderful salads. I think Earth Dog should be on The Food Networks "Diners, Drive-ins and Dives. Also visit Tari's, Lot 12, Ambre House and Panorama at the Peak.

Support your community!

Later, having friends with a home in Coolfont furthered the Hughes' interest in acquiring a get-away home here. With no plans to rent their home, Bill and Jennifer envision spending weekends in Coolfont—hopefully, several times a month. A new name for R-10 is yet-to-be-determined; however, with several promising contenders under consideration, a new name should be forthcoming.

WELCOME, all!
